G-IV-B-135
Xavier Kreyenbuhl House
Garrett County

Preparer: Gabrielle M. Lanier
Date Prepared: March 27, 1997

The Xavier Kreyenbuhl House is now a ruin, and exists only as a pile of rubble hidden in light underbrush. A small one-story, gable-roofed frame shed still stands adjacent to the house. The foundation was not visible when the building was surveyed. The walls are sheathed in yellowish composition siding trimmed with flat wooden cornerboards, and the building is topped with a green rolled asphalt gable roof with a wooden verge. A single metal stovepipe exits from the roof. One two-light fixed wooden sash window pierces the west wall, and a six-light window pierces the south gable. Both windows are finished with flat wooden surrounds. A wooden door on the south gable provides access to the interior.
